POULTRY SHOW OPENS IN CAMERON FRIDAY MORNING

SPORTS.

Charlie Paddock who can run almost as fast as Joel Hunt when the Aggie Mercury is circling left end for a touchdown, lifted the hopes of well wishers for Southwestern football when it was said recently at A. and M. that the conference winners would be invited to the Rose Bowl in California this year for a Thanksgiving game. But it seems these hopes are short lived. Now that Georgia Tech is about to win the title the western interests are asking for the Techs. It would give Southwestern fans great pleasure to see the Aggies flash their stuff under the skies of California for no other reason than to prove that Southwestern is playing better football than critics are willing to admit.

One of the outstanding achievements in Conference team victories over southern and eastern teams, is the compelled recognition in the far east and north, of the merits of Southwestern teams. The Southwestern conference, although producing some of the greatest stars of the game, is given little recognition in the east. But following the sensational victory of the Mustangs over Missouri and Texas' defeat of Vanderbilt, the wise boys took notice of the strength of our teams. When Joel Hunt led the Aggies to a 39 to 13 victory over Southern Methodist University, sport writers in the east, notably Allan Gould of the Associated Press came through with a nice paragraph commending the Aggie back and his team as being one among the few undefeated immortals of the gridiron in 1927.

More and more we are getting the attention of the east in our sensational play in the Southwest. Conference fans look with pride to the work of Bo McMillan, Wesley Bradshaw, Bud Sprague, Flannigan of Notre Dame, Fay Wilsen, who have burned up the staid rungs of eastern fields in flashes of Southern merit.

Joel Hunt, perhaps the fleetest back ever to set cleated foot upon a Southern Gridiron, would have no trouble making the all-American if he wore the uniform of any one of the big centers of football. Texas sport writers have been liberal in their estimates of Hunt and Mann but their enthusiasm will not gain the desired recognition. What the situation demands is a number of post or pre-conference games with the teams of the north and east. The coming 1928 game between the Army and S. M. U. is an encouraging development. Why not arrange a game between Georgia Tech and A. and M.

The sport writers are now leading up to their all conference teams. Next week we hope to submit a preliminary draft of our own selection. Watch this column.

NOVEMBER TERM COURT CONVENES IN CAMERON

100 TAX SUITS DISMISSED WHEN PAYMENTS ARE MADE AFTER FILING

November term of District Court convened Monday morning. The civil docket was sounded and several important civil cases set. Among the settings are three cases against the Knights of Maccabees filed by Geo. Marshall, R. L. Batte and Robert Todd. These cases were set for the 30th. On account of Judge Watson being a member of the Macabees is recused and will have to get some other judge to preside in the trials.

Barclay vs. Kemp executor of the estate of Lizzie B. Wilson is set for December 5th and Rogers vs. Kemp executor is set for December 12th.

Huebner vs. Hefley Motor Company a suit for personal damages is set for December 19. In each of the above settings prominent local and non-resident attorneys represent the parties to the suit.

Jacobs vs. Cameron Compress, growing out of the 1920 fire is set for December 7th. In a former trial of this case the jury failed to reach a verdict.

More than a hundred tax suits were dismissed by the County Attorney because of payment of taxes after suit was filed.

The suit of the State against the Santa Fe for taxes is set for the 14th of December. Defendant paid part but refused to pay all taxes as assessed, hence the suit.

The grand jury is composed of the following personnel: J. D. Nesbitt, foreman, Frank Janicek, Louis Lewis, S. E. Scott, Roger Gilliland, Paul Fuchs, E. H. Geistman, Ed McAtee, J. A. Mann, S. A. Cottle, Don Slocomb and Will Bailey.

DIVORCE MILL GRINDS FAST IN MILAM; FACTS DISCLOSES ALARMING NUMBER IN EFFORTS TO END UNHAPPY WEDLOCKS

The divorce mill in Milam County is grinding at a rapid and increasing rate.

Court records show that there is an alarming number of domestic squalls on the sea of matrimony and some interesting facts are disclosed in a survey made by The Herald following receipt of the government report of marriages and divorces for Texas.

The official record as represented by the government shows that for 1926 there were 462 marriages and only 65 divorces. In the number granted this figure may be said to represent the correct situation but in looking up local records The Herald has found some stricking indications of the decline of marriage stability in Milam County.

Hundreds Ask Divorce

The records show that the first case filed in district court for 1927 was a divorce proceeding and the last case filed on the 12th was a divorce petition. In all there have been filed in the district court for 1927 exactly 105 divorce suits by couples who find they cannot go on together as they thought when they left Hymen's altar to make a home.

The records further show that there is pending now in district court 424 divorce cases running over a period of about ten years. These are cases that have not been acted upon and do not in anywise represent the total that have been filed.

Since about August 1st at least 50 per cent of the cases filed for 1927 have been placed on the docket.

Attorney as Mediator

In conversation with a prominent local attorney who handles a good number of divorce cases we learned that not more than 75 per cent of the cases where lawyers are consulted ever reach the court docket. In this phase of the situation the lawyer often acts as arbiter and talks the couple out of their intentions to separate. We learned further that about 20 per cent of all divorce threats either filed or attempted are without cause and that the most prevalent asginment is cruel treatment.

Cruel Treatment

According to the attorney cruel treatment may mean many things when sifted down to apply to the lives of the divorce seekers. On one occasion, he said, a man would not let his children go to Sunday School and the wife alleged cruel treatment and in this case it was held to be sufficient grounds. Few cases, if any, ever disclose that a man beats his wife.

It is further shown that the most prevalent cause for divorce is mistaken affections. A man and woman often marry and find they are not congenial and cannot shape their lives together and this situation leads to disagreements—"cruel treatment"—and divorce.

The divorce mill reveals people of all nationalities appealing for release from ill-fated marriage, the larger number being among the negro population.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell To Reach Home Soon

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell who have been on a tour of Europe following the American Legion convention in Paris, will reach their home in Cameron by Sunday or the early part of next week.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell received messages from them on their arrival in New York, last Friday, Armistice Day.

They were to remain in New York for two or three days and go from there to Chicago and thence to Texas and their home in Cameron.

Mr. Mitchell an ardent A. & M. fan learned in New York of the victory of the Texas Aggies over Southern Methodist University. Mr. Mitchell will reach home in time to attend the Thanksgiving game between Texas and A. & M. College.

Cotton Report

There were 51,365 bales of cotton ginned from the 1927 crop in Milam county up to November 1 as compared with 52,713 for the same period last year. Indications are that the cotton crop in Milam county will reach 55,000 bales this year.

Electric Clock

One of the new inventions is the electric clock now on display in the office of the Texas Power and Light Company. This clock has works of an electrical nature that cannot be described by laymen. To appreciate this clock one should see it.

CAMERON TAKES ARMISTICE GRID GAME FROM ROCKDALE TIGERS 56 TO 0 IN RUN AWAY HERE ON NOVEMBER 11TH

Professional football would pay much for the toe of Kenneth Rogers, the big right tackle for the crimson backs this year. In fact any college coach could fancy nothing more assuring to his hopes of conference flags than a great and accurate toe that can get five goals after touchdowns and kick a field goal from the 35 yard line.

That was one of the features of the big Armistice Day game here last Friday. Rogers scored a total of 8 points with his toe, enough to win any game on anybody's field if it came to a test.

Led by the brilliant Captain Mondrik at full back and supported by Young and Wilkerson at halves, Roberts at Quarter, a backfield that functioned perfectly, the Yoemen made sprint of the rungs on the field Friday, completely crushing the Tigers. The Yoemen line held like a stone wall. The passing combination of Mondrik to Power and Mondrik to Wilkerson was irrestible. Wilkerson proved the running, off tackle threat of the day while Mondrik tore the Tiger line to shreads, making two of the touchdowns.

Play by Play

Rockdale wins toss and chose to receive. Rogers for Yoemen kicks to Daniels on his twenty yard line. No return. Daniels makes 3 yards at right tackle. Richards 3 yards at center. Daniels punts 35 yards to Young who fumbles and Rockdale recovers. Young intercepts a pass from Daniels placing the ball in the Yoemen's possession on their own 10 yard line. Mondrik no gain at right tackle. Mondrik makes 5 yards at left tackle. He smashes center for 4 more yards. Time out Cameron. Wilkerson loses 6 yards at right end. Smith of Rockdale

BIG FINN WINS FROM FAILS IN MAT MATCH

BEATS TAYLOR WRESTLER TWO OUT OF THREE FALLS NOVEMBER 11TH

Henry Kahunsaari is still the best wrestler ever seen in these parts.

Friday night, November 11 he won two out of three falls from Ned Fails of Taylor, easily beating the younger man from the home of Pet Brown.

Kahunsaari will leave in a few days for Amarillo where he has a couple of matches. When the engagements have been filled he will return to Cameron where he hopes to make his home for some time and to engage in other matches here.

The Finn went into the match Friday night the favorite, although fans who sat at the ringside to see this good match did not underestimate the ability of Fails. The Finn threw Fails much easier than he threw the Cowboy, D. B. Chick, in fact he lost one of the three falls to Chick. The Taylor man never had a chance, losing the first two, however more than a hour was required to get the first fall. The second came within a few minutes.

The show was well patronized, many fans paying admission charges for the event.

The show was arranged under the auspices of the American Legion with W. E. Lamb in charge.

LEGION MEN GIVEN FREE DINNER HERE

MRS. B. P. MATOCHA IN CHARGE, RECEIVES PRAISE OF HUNDREDS IN CAMERON

Hundreds of ex-service men came to Cameron last Friday for the Armistice Day program and to enjoy the free turkey dinner arranged by request of the Legion, an annual feature of the Armistice program.

Mrs. B. P. Matocha was in charge of the arrangements for the dinner, directing the various committees and those who assisted her in the preparation. The dinner was one of the best and most complete ever seen in Cameron and the best ever served to Legion men since they began to have this as a feature of the annual program.

The dinner was served in the building adjoining the Bluebonnet Cafe. Flags and bunting draped the walls and tables and cut flowers added to the decorative scheme. Boy Scouts Aided the women in the work.

Plates for 200 men were laid out for the first table and after this number was served another table was served and in all more than 300 people ate dinner at the tables. The Legion and the Legion men as well as their guests are praising Mrs. Matocha for her successful handling of this important feature of the Armistice program.

A number of old Confederate veterans ate dinner with the world war veterans.

The dinner came at high noon following a program of patriotic exercises in the district court room. The address was delivered by W. G. Gillis who substituted for E. A. Wallace, the latter being detained on legal business in Abilene. The address of Judge Gillis was well received and was well delivered.

A feature of the program was the recitation of the poem, "Flanders Field" by Miss Jennie Tyson.

In the afternoon the program included a football game and in the evening a wrestling match in the Legion hall. A street dance which is also an annual feature of the celebration was held at night with music by the Midnight Prowlers.

Grand Jury Returns Seven Indictments

The Grand Jury adjourned Wednesday and reported seven indictments; six of the grade of felony and one of misdemeanor.

Feel Tired and Languid?

Waste Impurities in the Blood Make One Dull and Listless.

Do you wonder why you feel so drowsy and out of sorts? Too many feel always tired, dull and achy. Too often the cause is sluggish kidneys that permit waste impurities to remain in the blood and cause one to feel dull and listless—to have a nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by scanty or burning excretions. Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Users everywhere recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

DULL, LISTLESS

Made Bright, Energetic By Black-Draught, Says Gadsden Lady.

"Ever since I have known about Black-Draught,' says Mrs. Della Mayben, of Gadsden, Ala., "it has been my regular standby for indigestion and constipation.

"I first used Black-Draught fourteen years ago. At that time, I was suffering with a bad case of swelling across my abdomen. Every bite I ate disagreed with me, and I had very severe headaches.

"I decided to try Black-Draught. I was truly astonished at the quick relief. In a few days, I began to feel like a different woman. Instead of being dull and listless, I began to feel bright and energetic.

"From that time on, I have rarely been without a box of Black-Draught in my house."

WE WANT 'EM DEAD SAYS BANKER OF BANDITS

TEXAS BANKERS RESPOND TO CALL TO BOOST THE REWARDS

Ft. Worth, Tex., Nov. 14—Bankers of Texas are rallying to the support of W. M. Massie, Ft. Worth president of the Texas Bankers' Association, in his campaign to beat back the desperadoes who have lately increased their activities in raiding small town banks throughout Texas. There is only one effective means in opposing bank robbers, according to Mr. Massie, and that is to fight them with their own weapons and their own ruthless methods.

Massie's recent suggestion that every one of the 1600 members in the Banker's Association give $5 as a reward to any one killing a bank robber during the act of raiding a bank in Texas, has already met with response of 500 bankers, it was announced Monday. If all come into the agreement an $8000 reward will be there for any one who kills a marauding bank robber.

Worth While Risk

It is the belief of the head of the Bankers' Association that this sum is large enough to make it worth the while of any peace officer or other armed individual to risk his life in attacking the robbers and should result first in the killing of a number of these criminals and then cause others to seek spheres of activity outside of Texas.

The association now has a standing reward for dead bank robbers of $1,000. Some of the member bankers in their letters to Massie suggest that rewards should also be given for the capture of bank robbers or to those slaying bank robbers hours after the raid has been made on a member bank in Texas. Other suggestions are also made in the campaign to outwit or frighten off the marauders. Some suggestions include the use of tear and gas bombs, the gas to be released by a lever inside the vault or from some other point in the bank.

Way to Stop Bandits

"There is just one satisfactory plan of stopping and intimidating bank robbers and that is to kill them," Massie asserted. "They enter a bank ready to kill. Let them discover that we are as ready and eager to kill them when they step into one of the banks in Texas and they will probably not come into banks in this State. Fear is the one thing that will intimidate them—fear of sudden death."

It is possible that posters may be placed throughout the State by the association offering a reward of from $5,000 to $8,000 for dead bank robbers, so that all may know of the reward.

Cameron Masonic Team Visits Thorndale and Confers M. M. Degree

A degree team from the Cameron Masonic Lodge visited Thorndale last Tuesday evening and conferred the Master's degree on a candidate. The team was accompanied by several members of the Cameron lodge, and following the ceremony and work all visitors and local members of the organization repaired to the Gant Cafe and Confectionery where refreshments were served the visiting brothers. The Cameron team certainly "know their stuff" and the occasion is one that will be remembered by the local members for some time. Among the members from Cameron, including the degree team were: T .F. Hardy, W. G. Gillis, W. E. Krull, John Watson, Jeff T. Kemp, W. H. Lucas, J. W. Haygood, Drayton McLane, R. E. Sharp, Max Collins, Gus Evans, Albert Collins. From Taylor, W. H. Anderson and R. H. Birthday Party

Last Friday, November 11, was the birthday of little Nannie Newton, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Newton. Her mother gave her a lawn party at their home. Nannie named among her guests the children of her class at school and a few friends.

Games were under the direction of Misses Maude McGehee and Glenn Stafford. The birthday cake was iced in white and held ten tiny pink candles. The emblems were found by the following children: Thimble, Ruth Green; ring, Ruth Mode; button, John Haygood; dog, Myrtle Stidham and wishbone, Frank Newton. Cream was served with the cake. During the afternoon stick candy was also served. Favors were suckers dressed in patriotic colors of red, white and blue. On departing each little guest wished for Nannie many more happy birthdays.

The Great American Bird

When the turkey gobbler's gobblin'
And a-struttin' 'crost the lot;
And the turkey hens are chatterin'
As they do the turkey trot;
When the gray clouds of November
Shut the sun out of the sky,
Then we can't help but remember
That Thanksgivin' time is nigh.

Fodder haulin' is all finished
And corn pickin's almost done,
And we rush to get our work done
'Fore the settin' of the sun;
When we're settled down for winter
With the wood pile loomin' high,
And we hug the kitchen fire,
We sure know Thanksgivin's nigh.

Then a feller gets to thinkin'
How his season's work was done—
Of the hay and grain he gathered
Underneath a summer's sun;
And he sizes up his treasures
Names his blessings, one by one—
Crops in corneribs, bins and cellars—
Fine a family as anyone.

Then he 'most forgets the hardships
And the hard knocks he's passed through.
And, in spite of comin' winter,
He is glad, instead of blue;
And it doesn't seem to matter if
He's a dollar or a dime,
He just can't help a-feelin' thankful
At good old Thanksgivin' time.
—Dakota Farmer.

Day Tends to Foster Spirit of Kindliness

The day on which the nation is called to the giving of thanks is a home and family day, and as such is a valuable institution. Those who have no homes are often invited to become for the day members of families that are blessed with them. In a word, the home that is in all our thoughts today is the hospitable home. And that is well. There is great need in these times to develop and strengthen the family feeling, and to weld it more closely as a social unit. To the accomplishment of that work a properly observed and honored Thanksgiving day may powerfully contribute. To give thanks for what?—some may ask. But that is not at all the thought. What is important is that there should be in all a thankful spirit, a right attitude toward life, whether considered spiritually or materially, and a frame of mind that knows something of contentment and inward peace. There is much for which to be thankful if one only looks at life and its problems and difficulties—and blessings—in the right way. The day would remind us that kindliness is a great virtue, and that the world would be happier if there were in it a good deal more of the spirit of friendliness—even among nations. —Indianapolis News.

Day to Reflect on Why to Be Thankful

It is one thing to be officially thankful and quite another to be actually and personally so. To accept Thanksgiving as an admittedly welcome holiday; to spend it at home enjoying a good dinner followed by a comfortable nap and then to go out for a call or two on friends is not enough. One might do this and still not be in the spirit of the day. As the greatest of the apostles has written, "the letter killeth but the spirit giveth life."

To be in the spirit of Thanksgiving is to reflect upon the reasons that one has for national, family and personal thankfulness. Maybe a glance at the pages of a school history of our country might help to quicken the pulse and brighten the eye. Possibly a steady gazing on the familiar features of Washington or Lincoln might be an aid to reflection. Perhaps a mingling with one's fellows in a congregation and the blending of a thousand voices in the strains of "America the Beautiful" might work wonders and be better for the heart than a physician's prescription.

Sentiment That Uplifts

Gratitude is one of the noblest sentiments which wells from the human heart. It purifies, uplifts and ennobles. It is an attribute of stability in character. A man may have many imperfections, but if he is capable of gratitude he is far from being all bad. And when gratitude is offered to the Most High, it brings the soul into tune with the Divine as scarcely anything else can.

'Jingoes' was the nickname given in England to the supporters and enthusiasts of Lord Beaconsfield, who sent a fleet to Turkish waters to oppose Russia's advance on Constantinople in 1878. Originally a jocular oath, 'By Jingo,' came into popular vogue when used in a famous music hall song.

According to some authorities, the story of 'The Babes in the Wood' was founded on the deed of King Richard III of England, who made his two young nephews prisoners in the Tower of London, from which they disappeared. It was believed that they were murdered by his orders. Perhaps the best-known version of the tale is the one in which the lost babes are covered with leaves by the robins in the woods.

In the woods near Berlin are a large number of 'vacation recreation grounds' set aside by the city for the benefit of its children. For the sum of 36 cents a week youngsters are transported daily to and from these parks are given three light meals while there.

There is a grapevine in a garden of Oberlustadt, near Speyer, Germany, that is believed to have been plantd about 1500. The stem is 47 inches in circumference and the roots reach down 250 feet.

Taking a firm stand against importation of luxuries and consequent expenditures of money outside Russia, Soviet officials have raised customs duties so high that Russians must pay $100 retail for a bottle of imported eau de Cologne, $50 for five ounces of ordinary perfume, $10 each for lipsticks and $25 for a box of face powder.

Idaho is reported to be adopting a plan for making its 1928 automobile license plates in the shape of a potato, symbolizing the state's baking-potato industry. Similarly Utah's wool raising industry is seeking recognition havin gadopted a resolution requesting that the 1928 automobile markers of that state represent a sheep.

Twenty-Five Years Ago In Cameron

(From the Files of The Herald)

Dr. M. K. The Cameron Lodge Knights of Honor had an oyster supper at the meeting Tuesday night. The table was set at Beauknights and it was 11 o'clock before the meeting adjourned.

News came to Cameron last week of the death of F. M. Crawford, which occurred at the home of his cousin in Oakland, Cal., December 4, 1902. Deceased was for a number of years a citizen of Cameron, was postmaster under President Harrison and cashier of the Milam County Bank which was suspended in March 1896.

Atkinson at Maysfield in the mercantile business, has accepted a position with the First National bank and will begin his duties there on the first of the week. Mr. Lester is a young man of sterling qualities, a first class business man, and will prove himself to be a valuable accession of the clerical force.

John B. McLane has relinquished his work in the Cameron First National Bank, though he will retain his interest in the business. This year he will devote his entire time to farming interests and will test out irrigation in the Little River bottom. He will plant no cotton.

Henry Woodruff has been named as Santa Fe agent at Cameron to take the place of N. F. Knight, resigned.

In this issue are advertisements from the Citizens National Bank and the First National Bank. Of the former H. F. Smith, was president; Tom Sampson, Vice president; W. L. Baird, cashier. On the board of directors were J. H. Bond and Sam Streetman in addition to the other officers named. At the First National Bank, John M. Hefley was president; T. F. Hardy cashier; H. M. Hefley, assistant cashier. On the board of directors were J. C. Reese, John B. McLane, Tom Peoples in addition to the above.

Four Speeds Now Available In Truck of Chevrolet Make

In order to enlarge the field of service of the trucks manufactured by the Chevrolet Motor Company, Sidney Cofrbett Manager of the Commercial Car Division, today announced that a four speed transmission is now available for all Chevrolet one-ton types.

This new transmission, Mr. Corbett said will provide 107 percent greater application of engine power than the regularly equipped three speed transmission, and is particullarly adapted to such work as pulling out of ploughed fields, sand pits and similar heavy duty service. Provision also is made in it Mr. Corbett said ,for a power take-off so that the power from the engine may be applied to various devices such as hydraulic hoist, pressure units for sprayers, pumps etc.

"Gear reductions in the three higher speeds of the new transmission" he said, "are approximately the same as in the standard three-speed transmission, the extra fourth speed providing a reduction 107 percent greater than in the standard transmission. The new type operates and shifts the same as the standard except for an auxiliary attachment to the shift lever which throws the fourth speed into gear.

"The new product was developed by Chevrolet engineers and perfected on General Motors proving grounds. It is available through the Chevrolet dealer organization at a cost of $65 installed.

South America Puts Graham Trucks To Test In The Army

"Few readers," says Pope Sapp of the Sapp Motor Company, local Dodge and Graham Brothers dealer, "realize what is required of the motor transportation equipment of the army of a South American republic. Before selecting Graham Brothers equipment as 'the type for adoption and acquisition by the Army of the Republic of Chili' the high army officials made a most exhaustive tests over a 500 mile course extending from sea level to the heights of the Andes over desert sands and up trails regarded as impassible to motor traffic.

"Chili with an average width of less han a hundred miles extends for nearly three thousand miles southward from Peru to Cape Horn and includes the backbone of the Andes. The mileage of improved highways is small. Portions of the main North and South highway follow the trails laid out for military communication during the days of the ancient Inca empire just as many of the main traveled highways in Europe and in England have been in continuous use since they were built by Julius Caesar to facilitate his invasion of Gaul. The work of the Army of Chili requires transportation of men and supplies over territory which would challenge the courage of the daring explorers and scientists who have extended the frontiers of civilization in search for information of value to science and for mineral wealth."

Six Foot Rattler Is Exhibited Here; Was Killed at Buckholts

John Russell of the Buckholts community was in town Wednesday and was exhibiting a large diamond rattle snake pelt. The reptile had twenty-nine rattlers and measured six feet and three inches. Mr. Russell says there are more rattlers in his community than he ever saw before. Within the past fortnight he and his son have killed thirteen large ones, and of that number another has twenty-two rattlers.

Mr. Russell makes oil from the fat of the rattlers and recommends it very highly for external application for rheumatism.

Mr. Russell promised Mr. Penn Wolf that he would make him a pistol scabbard from this largest snake pelt.

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

When Thanksgiving comes and you gather around your Thanksgiving table let it be lighted with Candles.

Since the beginning of written history the candle has contributed as much as any one factor toward man's advancement, through the barbaric and semi-civilized states to that of present day civilization.

By lengthening the day beyond the setting sun he was able to continue his pursuit of knowledge on into the night.

Through the ages of history as race has followed race and nation conquered nation, the candle has always endured. Thus it has evidenced its utilitarian value to man.

The candle aided primitive man as he scratched pictures of birds and beasts on the walls of his cavern home. The candle has burned before the altar s of pagan gods. It has lighted the halls of Karnak, the banquet rooms of Babylon, the temples of ancient Greece and the barracks of the Roman legions.

The candle has glorified the pageants which marked the brilliant courts of France, and at gatherings of knights and ladies in England's feudal castles the mellow light of the candle burned in splendor for many centuries.

The candle made light the cabins of the first American settlers and by its light the hardy pioneer pushed forward through the wilds of the western continent.

The Declaration o f Independence was framed by the light of the candle.

With the advent of 'Coal Oil," some seventy years ago, the utility of the candle for general illuminating purposes steadily decreased.

Within recent years, however, a new demand has been created for the candle. With this new use it has regained much of its former favor.

In many places candles are again the general dispenser of light, especially so on tea tables and in banquet rooms. As a decorative unit in the home, the demand for beautifully colored fancy candles is ever increasing.

From the reception hall through the living and dining rooms to the privacy of the boudoir, fancy candles may be used to lend that touch of individuality to the room scheme which is the ideal every home maker strives to attain.

As decorative units, candles are less costly and quite as effective as colored bric-a-brac. They may be secured in colors to blend with or give contrast to room decorations. And they may be changed from time to time without heavy expense, thus bringing variation into the room furnishings.

Thus the candle, man's early means of artificial illumination, has ever played an important part in the advance of civilization. And with a new demand created for this ancient source of light, the candle seems destined to become a necessity in every home.

At my store you will find every type of Candle produced by the candle shops of the Standard Oil Company, the largest manufacturers of candles in the world.

Cameron should be proud to have such an opportunity to see and select candles that ordinarily cannot be found in such a variety, south of Kansas City.

Texas Pecans and Turkeys

With San Saba holding the first National Pecan Show and Brady having its annual Turkey Trot last week, the "Heart of Texas" district was right in the public eye throughout the entire country. A few years ago land owners would have laughed at the suggestion of a National show of pecans and an exhibition of Texas Turkeys was limited to a few of the birds in pens. Texas pecans have become world-famous, and the big Eastern papers send their special feature writers to tell about the Turkey Trots. Cuero initiated the Turkey Trot as a big show and Brady jumped at the idea like an early bird after the first worm. While other places may raise just as good pecans and turkeys, San Saba and Brady can get and hold world-wide attention by keeping up their special shows. The town of the individual that gets a good idea and sticks with it year after year can build a worth-while reputation around that idea.

Shipments Going Forward

The first carload of turkeys to leave the State this fall is on the way from Fort Worth to Portland, Maine, for Thanksgiving dinners in that far away Eastern city. Pecan shipments have been moving north for several weeks. The turkey crop is unusually good ,and the price paid the growers is close around 25 cents a pound. The pecan crop is light, with prices ranging from 15 cents up. Fortunately, almost every section of Texas is adapted to pecans and turkeys and buyers seem always eager for all that can be produced.

Home Economics in Favor

The Caldwell county home demonstration agent observes that a great improvement is noticeable in the last few years in the meals served in farm homes in that county. Yes and Miss Home D. Agent is entitled to a big part of the credit, for she has assiduously taught the people how to prepare the foods and the meals in a way to have an abundant variety at all times without much additional cost to the old hap-hazard way of providing the home larder. These faithful workers do not get a great deal of praise, but they are showing us how to live better and to be healthier and, consequently, happier.

Lubbock's Growth

It hasn't been a great while since Lubbock was a little village with an uncertain tenure on existence. News reports tell us that there are nearly a million dollars worth of buildings under construction in that little city at this time. Lubbock has a feeling, too, that it has just started upon its growth. Good schools, good roads and a plucky people are turning the trick.

Speaking of Roads

Not long ago I was in a Texas town which I will not name, that has one of the most favorable locations in all Texas—a place that should be an ideal residence town, and one that has all the natural attractions to draw thousands of tourists. But the place can hardly be entered from any direction because of its poor roads and the citizens appear to be indifferent to their improvement. Some day that place will wake up to see what it has been losing all these years because of its poor roads.

Cauliflower and Cabbage

Weimer is turning its attention to growing cauliflower and cabbage for carload shipment in the fall, as well as to nearby cities by express. It is said that these products and beans grow especially well there and that the prices usually are satisfactory. Under these conditions Weimer seems to have a wonderful opportunity for a prosperous home industry.

Texas Shrimp Market

Few Texans away from the coast think of Texas as a shrimp producing state, but Port Lavaca profits largely from the shrimp industry, having shipped nearly three quarters of a million pounds in September. The profits to be derived from Texas coast sea foods, and the mild climate in which it can be secured, should make the people of the bleak Northeastern coast green-eyed with nvy.

Uvalde Asphalt

Some of us in Texas have to look up a dictionary to see what asphalt is and then learn that it is something used extensively in road building; but comparitively few know that it is shipped out of the Uvalde sections by the thousands of carloads and that the rock asphalt deposits of Southwest Texas are the most valuable in the world.

Black-Eyed Peas Staple Crop

One result of the ten-year soil improvement campaign in Smith county has been to make black-eyed peas a staple crop, the yield this year being the largest on record. The crop is not confined to the one county, either, but extends over a number of East Texas counties. Diversified farming has nearly stopped East Texas from shipping in any corn, whereas in some previous years about all the money made from cotton went to buying corn and wheat.

Pampa Bonds High

The general prosperity of that part of Texas is revealed in a sale of Gray county 30 year serial bonds bearing 5 1-2 cents interest at a premium of 5 1-4 cents. The $400,000 bond issue is to be used to hardsurface about 42 miles of highway leading out in several directions from Pampa into the oil territory of which Pampa is the center. Texas bonds are now in much demand.

Yoakum Improvements

Yoakum will soon vote on a $250,000 bond issue for extending the sewer system and building some good streets. The small cities of Texas are learning that their people like all the sanitary and street improvements the larger places have, and that the right kind of people are attracted by the right kind of living conditions.

East Texas Syrup

If you want a savory sweetening for your breakfast battercakes, get your grocer to stock up with genuine East Texas ribbon cane syrup and lay in a supply for the winter—that is, if you do not live in East Texas and grow ribbon cane yourself. It is the only acknowledged rival of Southwest Texas honey.

Smithville Wins Shops

Smithville had a contract with the Katy railroad to maintain shops in Smithville, putting up a valuable consideration in land and money. The Katy decided to move the shops and did so over Smithville's protest. The removal gave Smithville a black eye. Now the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that the shops must be maintained in Smithville according to contract and Smithville is happy again at the prospect of a return of the "good old shop days."

CANCEL MEETING OF COUNCIL TUESDAY

WOMEN ASK ABOUT MORE EXITS FOR THE CAMERON THEATERS

For the first time in many months the City Council held no meeting Tuesday night. There was no business to engage the attention of the aldermen and Mayor Davis by request of the members canceled the meeting. Aftr the decision not to meet it developed that members of the Parent-Teacher Association planned to bring before the council a request that local theaters be required to comply with the State law and provide proper exits in case of fire. It is pointed out by the women that while in some instances the requirements have been met there is further need.

Mayor Davis has assured the women that proper action will be taken.

In this connection it is said that for more than two years the council has urged compliance but so far adjustment has not been made. The women are interested in the protection of their children and will insist that Mayor Davis secure proper compliance with the law.

Improvements made in one of the local theaters has provided every possible precaution and there has been no disposition to refuse compliance but on the other hand every possible means have been employed. In another theater it is pointed out additional exit signs should be placed.

Contractors have not yet filed bond in the paving contract award but Mayor Davis expects compliance soon.

When building a grandstand engineers must make allowance for 'tho weight of excitement' or the additional strain given when excited spectators jump up and down.

Constipation! How to Keep Bowels Regular

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Miss Grace Mangum was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club on last Tuesday, delightfully entertaining club members and a few additional guests, at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. S. Mangum. Chrysanthemums of many shades were used for decorations and interwoven among the baskets of flowers were red and brown autumn leaves. On the four tables arranged for the games, the accessories carried out the autumn leaf idea. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Graves, sister of the hostess assisted in serving pressed chicken, fruit salad in apple cups, pickle, cracker, hot tea and toasted pimento sandwiches.

Work of Benefactress Among Mexican People Is Praised By Church

"To the Mexican Baptist Church of Cameron, Texas:

Dearest Brethren:

We as a helpless people, I acknowldge with a deep sense of gratitude the opportunity to participate in a testimonial to Mrs M .C. Sapp for her good wishes to see the Temple walls going up, even giving herself to the work. When I think of Mrs. Sapp's magnificant labors for our people, her life of service, all clothed in a modest self-affacement that is as glorious as it is rare. I realize how woefully inadequate any testimonial can be to this truly greatest American woman in the world. (Like Miss Szold the Jewish Lady) and the co-workers, Brothers Wm. Hendersop, F. J. Beckerman, J. S. Bragg and M. G. Cox.

But at least we who are so much indebted to her can show in some small measure our respect, our devotion and our love and esteem We can do it in no more fitting way than by presenting to her our sincere and heartfelt thanks and assure her that we shall do the best that God will, shall be to carry out to the honor and glory of our Precious Lord of Lords. I know of no testimonial more appropriate or that Mrs. M. C. Sapp, would appreciate more than our loyalty to our Divine Lord.

There is no question of our loyalty to the cause and we uphold all our Brethren that co-laborer with us.

Now unto him that is able to do exceedingly and abundantly above all that we ask or think according to the power that worketh in us. Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

Yours very truly and faithfully in our divine Lord and in His service.

An humble servant of all,
F. A. Hernandez

NATION GAVE NO THANKS IN 1776

In November of That Year American Cause Was at Lowest Ebb.

There was no Thanksgiving proclamation in November, 1776. Congress did, indeed, pass a resolution summoning the people of the several colonies to assemble, but in prayer for deliverance, not of thanksgiving. The American cause seemed at that moment to be all but hopeless. Washington was retreating across New Jersey. Leaving Newark on the 28th of November with an army of 5,000 that gradually dwindled, he crossed the Raritan with scarcely 3,500 starving and half-naked troops. In New York, then in the hands of the British, General Howe was issuing a proclamation which might have been considered a proclamation of thanksgiving for some. It was one of pardon to all who would renounce the Declaration of Independence. Twenty-seven hundred accepted. But this only augmented the ills of those who still stood out for independence, and increased the jeopardy in which their lives and possessions were put.

Nation's Early Sufferings.

The infant republic, surrounded by foes, for the Indians were rising, was also suffering from the condition which has lately been epidemic in Europe—a depreciated currency. The news that American representatives had succeeded in getting aid from France in the way of uniforms and equipment for soldiers and other supplies had not yet become known to the Washington troops, whose route as they approached the Delaware was easily traced, as there was a little snow on the ground, which was tinged here and there with blood from the feet of the men who wore broken shoes." It was in these desperate days that Washington wrote to his brother saying that if every nerve was not strained to recruit a new army to take the place of the troops whose term of enlistment was expiring, he thought the game was "pretty near up." The flame of the campfires about which those who remained faithful to the desperate cause were gathered furnished, however, a hopeful ray for Paine's "times that try men's souls."

Now Blessed Above Others.

It is with such a background of extremity, approaching defeat, that the country which these patriot souls suffered to make independent comes to its national Thanksgiving today. With a third of the wealth of the world in its hands, as has been estimated—and with most of the gold—with abounding crops and "much goods laid up for many years," we have collective material reason for gratitude beyond any other people on the face of the earth. But in congratulating ourselves as a nation and individuals that we have passed another year in "the favor of the Almighty" and that "He has smiled on our fields," are we doing more than Sosicles, the Greek tiller of the soil, over 2,000 years ago, who dedicated to "Demeter, lover of wheat," a few handfuls of corn "from the furrows of his tiny field," having reaped an abundant harvest and desiring another year, by the same favor, to carry back his sickle blunted from his harvest? Gratitude for these things? Yes, but with a consciousness of the obligation which that sufficiency brings and with no thought of taking our ease in the earth or letting it go its own way while we enjoy our goods in self-indulgent isolation.

One hundred fifty years ago our ancestors prayed for deliverance from restrictions upon their rightful liberty. Today our prayer should also be for deliverance as well as in thanksgiving—deliverance from the arrogance of self-sufficiency, from the pride of material power, from swaggering claims of superiority. We have learned to endure hardship, we have proved to the world our active and helpful sympathy for suffering wherever it has come to mankind, we have demonstrated also our resourcefulness and ingenuity in difficulty and our fearlessness in danger. We have known how to face adversity. Our prayer in the prosperity that has come upon us is that we also should "know how to abound."

Better Form of Prayer.

It were better that we should join all humanity in the simple thanksgiving prayer which Epictetus suggested:

"Ought we not when we are digging and plowing and eating to sing this hymn to God: 'Great is God, Who has given us such implements with which we shall cultivate the earth; great is God, Who has given us hands, the power of swallowing, a stomach, imperceptible growth, and the power of breathing while we sleep.'"

But the real things to be thankful for lie still deeper in the friendships of the spirit of men and of nations.

Grandpa Gives Thanks

When all is said and done,
The simple things are best;
Cool rain and goodly sun,
Hard work and easeful rest.
When one has reached the end
And these have been bestowed,
Warm love . . . earned bread . . .
a friend—
How fair has been the road!

To sit a while and dream
Before my open door;
To watch the sunlight gleam—
What sane man asks for more?
To see my garden grow,
What dearer thing there is?
To hear the great winds blow . . .
Child-laughter . . . memories . . .

A hand close-clasped in mine,
My own green bit of sod,
And in my soul, divine,
The living Grace of God.

HEALTH TEACHER IN SCHOOLS OF CAMERON

TO SPEND MONTH IN WORK AMONG PUPILS OF CAMERON

The Cameron Schools are fortunate in being able to secure the services of Miss Susanna Schnemayer of the Bureau of Nutrition and Health Education of the University of Texas, who will spend one month in the Cameron schools working with pupils, teachers and parents in the promotion of a better health program.

Miss Schnemayer will arrive in Cameron on Thursday of this week and her work will begin immediately. She comes at the invitation of the School Board and the work will be done without cost to the Board further than actual expense which will be nominal.

It is hoped that Miss Schnemayer will be given full cooperation by pupils, teachers and parents in order that the program may result in the greatest good to the children of Cameron.

The work will be thoroughly practical, will be adjusted to local conditions and will aim to stimulate interest in definite health habits which have to do with proper food, good posture, cleanliness, etc.

Miss Schnemayer will work with teachers and pupils, and an important feature of the program will be a series of lectures for mothers. These lectures should be well attended as they will afford an opportunity for study in th health needs of school children under a reliable authority.

Sunday Night Fire Destroys W. A. Copus Home; Partially Insured

Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Copus Sunday night. The fire was discovered by neighbors. The family was at the Christian church.

The home was quickly enveloped in flames and nothing in the way of household goods were saved from the fire, although firemen responded and a second alarm was turned in, little work could be done as the home was doomed.

The home was one of the old landmarks of Cameron, having been built by Major Rogers in 1857. Major Rogers was a noted Confederate leader and is buried in the old cemetery near the road to the Little River bridge. He was the father of Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Wm. R. Rogers and Mrs. Ella Hooks. The site on which this home was built was purchased by Major Rogers from Stroud Milton who was at one time prior to 1857 county clerk.

The widow of Major Rogers ,Mrs. Martha Rogers, lives with her daughter, Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp. Mr. and Mrs. Copus bought the old home from Mrs. Rogers about three years ago and spent several hundred dollars remodeling a portion of it.

The loss is partially covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Copus have made no plans as yet. Their many friends sympathize with them in their loss and will be interested in any plans they might have for the future.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

HOPELESS
Weak, Thin, Nervous Woman Gets Strong, Gains Weight.
Mrs. L. N. Crawford, Jr., of Logansport, La., writes:
"I felt perfectly hopeless. "Life wasn't worth living, it seemed. I felt like giving up but, you know, a woman with a family just can't do that. I was weak, thin and nervous.
"I tried so many things but didn't get better. Finally I asked my husband to get me some Cardui. After I had taken three bottles, I was like a new person.
"I gradually resumed my work around the house and went places. I quit suffering. Now I am strong, in good weight, and feel fine."
Thousands of women have been helped by Cardui, in a similar way, in the last 45 years.

Paving Contract Not Yet Signed; Time Is Passed for Filing

Records of the city show that the firm of Brown and Root who were recently awarded the contract for the paving here have not filed their bond in the required sum.

The terms of the contract give the firm ten days in which to file the bond for the completion of the contract. However, it is expected that the transaction will be closed in a few days.

Some disappointment has been expressed because the work is not to begin until next year.

Miss Beth Jeter was hostess to the Friday Bridge Club at her home last Friday. The flowers for decoration for the attractiveness of the home were red roses. These were used profusely in ever vantage placee. Three tables were set for the games at the conclusion of which prizes were awarded to Mrs. F. Tokio, Japan, traffic rules posted in English in the police station: 'At the rise of the hand policeman stop rapidly. When a passenger of the foot hove in sight, tootle the horn. Trumpet at him. Melodiously at first, but if he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with vigor and express by word of mouth the warning, 'Hi Hi'. Beware the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him by. Do not explode the exhaust box at him as you pass him by. Go soothingly by. Give big space to the festive dog that shall sport in the roadway. Go soothingly in the grease mud, as there lurks the skid demon.'

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys
Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You
No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.
The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.
This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MAIL YOUR PACKAGES EARLY P. O. ADVISES

MRS. BESSIE HEFLEY CITES FEW REMAINING DAYS AND NEED FOR HURRY

Christmas is just ahead.
Mail your packages early.
We hear this suggestion each year, but folks have to be reminded that the post office facilities of the country though efficient cannot handle the enormous mail within a few days.

Mrs. Bessie M. Hefley, postmaster at Cameron is advising patrons of the local office to mail their packages early this year, as she has done in times past since she has been head of the local office.

Christmas day this year comes on Sunday, an unusual day for the holiday.

Those who wish to mail packages and to get them to their destination in time should begin at once.

Mail your packages early and avoid delay.

A Statement to the Public by L. W. Baldwin, President of the MISSOURI PACIFIC LINES
"Ask a Missouri Pacific Man"
"ASK a Missouri Pacific Man" whatever it may be that you want to know, especially if it is something pertaining to Transportation—and if the individual to whom the question is addressed doesn't know the answer or can't get it quickly, he or she, will direct you to someone in the Missouri Pacific Lines' organization that can and will—gladly—supply the desired information.
This is what has made of the Missouri Pacific Lines a genuine "SERVICE INSTITUTION." The public has come to realize this and profit as a result of it—and employes of the Missouri Pacific Lines are justly proud and happy as a result. And the Missouri Pacific Lines are justly proud of the army of men and women who have made the System a synonym for Service.
When the most disastrous floods in history swept down the Mississippi Valley and the tributaries of that river, as one writer has said, "the rushing, roaring waters destroyed the roadbed in places, but the morale held fast and never weakened nor wavered." Incidentally, largely as a result of that same splendid morale, all records were shattered by the speed and completeness with which the physical property was restored and normal service resumed.
The same spirit that prompted Missouri Pacific Lines men and women to heroic achievements throughout the floods is the spirit that has actuated the organization and made the entire System known throughout the country for aggressiveness, dependability, courtesy and refined service.
This is the same spirit behind the various special development departments. It is the spirit that has made the Missouri Pacific a Service Institution with a Soul.
It is with pleasure and pride, therefore, that we call attention to the desire and willingness of all the individuals in the organization to give to the public the utmost in special attention of every description.
And that is the reason we can advise everyone, regardless of what it is that may be desired or what information is sought, to
"ASK A MISSOURI PACIFIC MAN."
We solicit your co-operation and suggestions.

MRS. I. M. POOL BURIED IN CAMEORN WEDNESDAY

RESIDENT HERE FOR MANY YEARS DIES AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. I. M. Pool, 83, pioneer resident of Cameron, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Henderson at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday November 15, 1927 following an illness of about one week and a long decline of health.

The death of Mrs. Pool came as a shock to hundreds who knew her in the years she lived in Cameron and her family of fine sons and daughters. Her condition while considered grave, did not dispel hope until two or three days before her death, when those at the bedside realized the end was near. Hearts were sad as news came that Mrs. Pool had died.

She bore her suffering with great faith and fortitude, receiving the most devoted attention at the home of Mrs. Henderson who spared no effort to give her comfort and attention during her illness.

Mrs. Pool was born in Mississippi on April 7, 1844 and at the time of her death was 83 years of age.

She moved to Milam county with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Green Powell when a small child and spent her life here and at Stamford where the family resided for a number of years. The family resided at Jones Prairie.

She was married to Isaac M. Pool in 1864 in Cameron while on a visit here. She had met Mr. Pool here and after their marriage they went to Stamford to make their home. They spent a large part of their married life in Stamford where her husband, Isaac M. Pool who died 17 years ago, is buried.

Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Pool has resided with her two daughters, Mrs. Wm. Henderson of Cameron and Mrs. T. A. Robinson of Dallas. The last few years she has spent the major part of her time in Cameron with Mrs. Henderson and her son, H. B. Pool. She was critically ill for three months last summer and was ill for five days before her death.

She is survived by her children as follows: Mrs. Wm. Henderson of Cameron, Judge R. B. Pool of Cameron; Frank Pool of Big Springs; Alvah Pool of Abilene and Will Pool of Brownfield; and Mrs. T. A. Robinson of Dallas.

She was of the Baptist faith, the services being conducted by E. S. Hutcherson with the Coleman-Eplen Company directing the funeral arrangements.

The pallbearers were Tom Robinson, Jr., and Ike Pool Robinson, of Dallas and C. W. Bradbury of Cameron, grandsons; Pat McKinney, Voss Harlan and Jim Baskin, nephews of Cameron.

Funeral services for Mrs. Pool were held in the home of Wm. Henderson at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with a large concourse of friends attending, paying their devotion to one whom they had known for many years and loved for her fine Christian character and inspiration of life and ideals.

From the home the procession, one of the largest to be seen in this city, was directed to Oak Hill Cemetery where the body was interred. Floral tributes banked the home and lay in great collections over the grave as the family said farewell to the mother who had given her life to her children and the cultivation of their lives and character.

The Herald joins with the host of friends of the family in extending sympathy to the bereaved in their sad and irreparable loss.

Out of town attendants at the funeral were: T. A. Robinson and two sons, Tom Jr., and Ike Pool Robinson of Dallas; Mrs. Paul Dana, Dallas; Mrs. Robert Pool, Jr., Dallas; Dr. and Mrs. H. Clay Watson, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Strickland of Coolidge; Mr. and Mrs. Will Pool of Brownfield; Alvah Pool of Abilene; Frank Pool of Big Springs.

Mrs. Homer Turner, Mrs. K. K. Hairston and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simms of Rockdale spent Armistice Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Laird.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SYRUP

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
